Insights by VISA

STAY SECURE 2026

Egypt

The annual Stay Secure study assesses consumer awareness and behavior around digital commerce and fraud in Egypt. This year's edition, conducted by Wakefield Research, highlights how AI-enabled shopping and social commerce are changing consumer behavior as expectations around trust and protection remain firmly in place.

Consumers Embrace AI-Assisted Shopping, but Trust is Key at Checkout

91%

Today, 38% trust AI agents to complete checkout, while 91% have used AI tools to assist with shopping, including comparing prices, finding gift ideas, and checking reviews or product ratings

Social Commerce is Growing but so are Scam Risks

36%

have experienced a financial scam in the past 12 months. Among those who have experienced a scam, 46% report the incident occurred on social media

Children are Increasingly Exposed to Scams While Shopping and Gaming Online

91%

are concerned that children in their lives struggle to recognize scams, and 61% have seen a child fall victim while gaming or shopping online

Consumers Expect Institutions to Lead on Fraud Protection

47%

believe government authorities or regulators should be primarily responsible, followed by banks or financial institutions (43%) and payment providers (28%). Only 13% believe consumers themselves should hold primary responsibility

Certain illustrations used in this material were created by Gen AI

This material is provided "AS IS" and intended for informational purposes only and should not be relied upon for operational, marketing, legal, technical, tax, financial or other advice. Visa neither makes any warranty or representation as to the completeness or accuracy of the information within this document, nor assumes any liability or responsibility that may result from reliance on such information. The Information contained herein is not intended as investment or legal advice, and readers are encouraged to seek the advice of a competent professional where such advice is required.

VISA